national patterns of r d resources is an annual report issued by the national center for science and engineering statistics nces of the national science foundation which provides a national view of current patterns in funding of r d activities in government industry academia federally funded research and development centers and non profits total r d funds are broken out at the national level by type of provider type of recipient and whether the r d is basic applied or developmental these patterns are compared both longitudinally versus historical r d amounts and internationally this report series which is based on input from several censuses and surveys is used to formulate policies that e g might increase incentives to support different types sources or recipients of r d than is currently the case to communicate these r d patterns each report is composed of a set of tabulations of national r d disaggregated by type of donor type of recipient and type of r d while this satisfies many key user groups the question was whether some modifications of the report could attract a wider user community and at the same time provide more useful information for current users national patterns of r d resources future directions for content and methods addresses the following questions 1 what additional topics and tabulations could be presented without modifying the current portfolio of r d censuses and surveys 2 what additional topics and tabulations might be presented by expanding these current data collections 3 what could be done to enhance international comparability of the tabulations 4 since much of the information on non profit r d providers and recipients is estimated from 15 year old data what impact might this be having on the quality of the associated national patterns tabulations 5 what statistical models could be used to support the issuance r d estimates at state level and geographic regions below the national level 6 what use could be made from the recent development of administrative sources of r d information and finally 7 what graphical tools could be added to the current tabulations to enhance the communication of r d patterns to the users of this series of publications
